

The MERL Chattering Chicks

Follow instructions to make one chick, repeat the process for the second chick.
Colour in the chicks's body and its wings. Carefully cut out the body and the wings.
Fold the chick in half along the broken lines, matching the curves of the body.
Glue the heads together, then glue on the wings to the body, indicated by the broken grey lines.
Move the breast section apart about 1.5cm, on a flat surface nudge your chick.
Imagine it chattering, what can the chicks be chattering about?
