

The MERL Pecking Hen

Colour in the hen's body, combs and wings. Carefully cut out the body, the combs and wings. Fold the hen in half along the black broken lines, matching the curves of the body. Glue the heads together, then glue on the combs to the head and the wings to the body, indicated by the broken grey lines. Move the breast section apart about 3cm, place the hen on a flat surface nudge your hen to start pecking.
