

Lady Stapledon Collection D LSC

Lady Stapledon was the wife of Sir R.G. Stapledon (1882-1960), a prominent researcher in agricultural science, particularly regarding grasslands. She kept this day journal during the tour she made with her husband to Australia and New Zealand in 1926. The tour formed the basis for R.G. Stapledon's book A Tour in Australia and New Zealand: grass land and other studies, published in 1928.

Readers may also wish to refer to the R.G. Stapledon Collection. Reference: D69/31 and D77/29.

Accession number DDX 1584

Index

D LSC B Diary
D LSC C Poems by R.G. Stapleton

Ref. No.	Title	Dates
D LSC B/1	The Diary of Lady Stapledon Lists events day by day, describing social engagements and travel arrangements (1 item)	1926
D LSC B/2	Typescript of LSC B/1 (1 item)	n.d. [Mid 1980s]
D LSC B/3	Photocopy of LSC B/1 (1 item)	2005
D LSC B/4	Typescript of LSC B/1 (1 item)	2005
D LSC B/5	3.5 inch Floppy Disk containing copy of LSC B/4 (1 item)	2005
D LSC C/1	Article on R. G. Stapledon in Biographical Memoirs of Fellows of the Royal Society [photocopy] (1 item)	1961

D LSC C/2

Folder of poems by R.G. Stapledon

n.d. [1920s]

Includes an obituary to Stanley M. Bligh and a newspaper cutting regarding R.G.
Stapledon's visit to Australia and New Zealand